REPORT ON THE STANDARD BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER.—The report of the joint committee appointed by the last General Convention to prepare a Standard Book of Common Prayer has been printed by the munificence of a gentleman whose name is not given to the public. It is a really splendid specimen of typography. But the report itself is beyond any ordinary praise. It is the result of long labor, the labor of experts. The introduction gives an account of the methods adopted by the committee. This is followed by a thoroughly excellent, and indeed exhaustive, bibliography of the versions of Bibles (Hebrew, Greek and English) employed; and of Books of Common Prayer, American, English, Irish, Scottish—with other books necessary for the committee's work. Then comes a most carefully compiled History of Standard Prayer Books; a note on punctuation; correction from the Standard of 1871; passages from Holy Scripture; that is to say, a most careful and detailed comparison of the Epistles, Gospels, etc., with standard editions of the authorized version of the Bible; the Psalter; the Creeds; the rest of the prayer book. Then follows a list of changes finally adopted in 1886 and 1889. An appendix is added, by the Rev. Frederick Gibson, M. A., of Baltimore, of various readings in the English Psalter.
Nothing but such careful reading as we have given to this admirable report could convey any adequate idea of its wonderful interest and extreme value.
It is a thoroughly scholarly production.
The utmost care, down to every jot and tittle, has been taken, to produce a perfect result. The church, to say nothing of the committee, may well be congratulated on this truly superb report.
—Churchman.

ROQUEFORT AND ITS CHEESE.— Cheese, which has been the fortune of Roquefort, has destroyed its picture-queness. It has brought speculators there who have raised great ugly, square buildings of dazzling whiteness in harsh contrast with the character and sombre tone of the old houses.
What is the most curious in the place is the cellars. They have been excavated to such a depth in the rock that they are to be seen in as many as five stages, where long rows of cheeses are stacked one over the other. The virtue of these cellars from a cheese-making point of view is their dryness and their scarcely-varying temperature of about eight degrees centigrade summer and winter.

But the demand for Roquefort cheese has become so great that trickery now plays a part in the ripening process.
The peasants have learned that "time is money," and they have found that bread crumbs mixed with the curd cause those desirable green streaks of moldiness.

The notion that brass pins are stuck into Roquefort cheese to make it turn green is founded on fiction.—Turn Bar.

DISINFECTING BAGGAGE.—Travellers who are coming back from Europe with trunks full of beautiful things collected in their wanderings abroad are having a hard time at the New York quarantine. Cabin passengers are no more exempt from the strict quarantine regulations which now prevail than the humblest immigrants, and must undergo the overhauling and fumigating process prescribed by the health officers if they have even passed through any of the infected districts of Europe within ten days previous to sailing. Expensive lazes, silk dresses, Paris bonnets and delicate bijouterie and bric-a-brac of all kinds must be put through the steam sweating and sulphur burning operation, and tears and entreaties are of no avail with Dr. Jenkins and his assistants who are moved by a stern sense of duty to resist every inducement to let up in their warfare of extermination against the fatal cholera germ. Care is taken, however, to do as little injury as possible to such articles, although all must be thoroughly fumigated, and things that will not stand a steam bath at 212, chlorine gas, or sulphuric vapors are carefully washed with a solution of bi-chloride of mercury. Yet even this delicate consideration is hardly reassuring to many, who regard the attention of the health officials with indignant feelings, and extreme bitterness of spirit.

OFFICE OF E. J. MILLER & SON, Alexandria, Va.
We wish to inform our patrons that the NEW FLOOR, of which mention has been made in the columns of the Gazette, is now completed, and that our NEW STOCK OF GOODS FOR THE FALL TRADE has arrived. We were never in as good condition both as regards the styles and the quantity of our stock at this season, and our prices are exceedingly moderate. Our retail department has been placed in the hands of a competent salesman, in the person of Mr. J. S. McKicking, of Salem, Va. His entire attention will be devoted to this department, and the wants of our Alexandria customers will receive prompt attention. Owing to a press of business in our wholesale department our retail trade has lately suffered for want of a competent clerk, but we feel sure that this is now remedied, and we ask the continuance of your patronage. Our buyer has just returned from New York, where he was fortunate in buying many bargains in Haviland French China, Bric-a-brac, etc., among which will be found many novelties that are especially dainty and useful. We cordially invite you to call and examine our stock, assuring you of polite and prompt attention. Very respectfully yours, sep1 1m E. J. MILLER & SON.

Session begins September 15. Corps of experienced teachers. Special advantages in Music, Art and Elocution. Great attention to Primary Department.
[Testimonial from Professor CHARLES S. VENABLE, of University of Virginia.]
"I have known Miss Corrie S. Ewing (Petersburg, Va.) for a number of years and testify with pleasure that I consider her well qualified as a teacher by character, talents, training and experience. In the school which Miss Ewing proposes to open in Alexandria, she will have the wise aid and counsel of her honored mother, the widow of the late Rev. Daniel B. Ewing, D. D. of the Presbyterian Church, whose memory is honored in the churches."
